Position Overview

As a Trainee Supervisor Apprentice, you will join our Contracting teams and gain hands-on experience across a wide range of on-site supervisory responsibilities. Over the course of this 36-month apprenticeship, you will complete the Level 4 Construction Site Supervisor qualification, equipping you for a future leadership role in operational management. Throughout the programme, you will develop core competencies in health and safety practices, risk assessment, and behavioral safety in critical environments. You will also gain a strong understanding of sustainability in construction—covering economic, social, and environmental aspects—as well as key principles of project and people management.

Key Tasks and Responsibilities

In this role, you will:

- Supervise all Tarmac site operations, including surfacing, planning, traffic management, and subcontractor activities.
- Plan, schedule, and deliver individual schemes, ensuring financial performance targets are met.
- Coordinate labor, plant, materials, and contractors to ensure safe, efficient, and profitable project execution.
- Manage site health and safety, including preparing risk assessments, permits, job briefings, and daily safety communications.
- Take accurate site measurements for material ordering.
- Maintain detailed records of work completed and liaise with Quantity Surveyors to ensure timely invoicing.
- Collaborate with internal teams (e.g., link room, QS team) and external stakeholders (clients, main contractors).
- Work predominantly outdoors in varying weather conditions.

Key Characteristics

For this role you should be/have:

- Enthusiastic about hands-on, outdoor work environments
- Strong communicator with internal teams and external stakeholders
- Self-motivated and committed to continuous learning
- Willingness to travel to various project site
